NEWS ABOUT THE EAST PALESTINE, OHIO TRAIN DISASTER KEEPS COMING

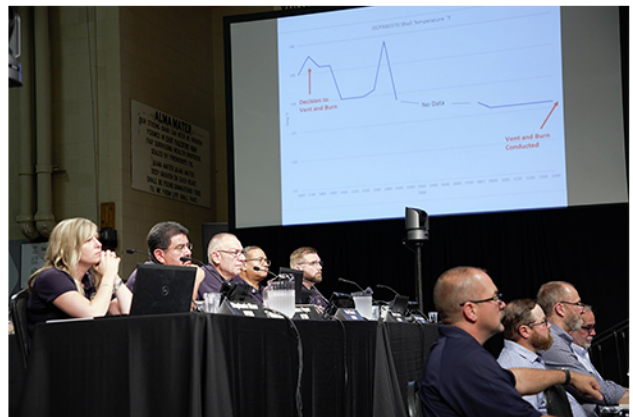

The East Palestine train disaster caused toxic chemicals to rain down on 16 states, "from South Carolina to Wisconsin to New England ... or 14 percent of U.S. land area."

"Pollution from East Palestine train derailment rained down in 16 states, study says," Washington Post, June 19, 2024.

Norfolk Southern, the railroad responsible for the disaster, "threatened the [National Transportation Safety Board], sought to manufacture evidence and failed to provide documents to the Board.

"NTSB says Norfolk Southern threatened agency during derailment probe," Reuters, June 25, 2024.
